

Services Held For John O'Brien

Funeral services for John O'Brien, who died suddenly Sunday evening, were held Wednesday morning at nine o'clock from St. Ann's Catholic church. Father Haegy officiating. Interment was in Grandview cemetery. The pallbearers were John Conway, Sr., Joe Rabdau, H. M. Macnamara, John Lynch, Emil Dion and Ernest Mayer.

John W. O'Brien was born April 22, 1883 at Wilson, Wis. He came to Bonnors Ferry in 1911 and was associated with his brother-in-law, L. N. Brown, in the general store which they had purchased from the George R. Gray company. After a five-year partnership Mr. O'Brien sold his interest to Mr. Brown, the former moving to Chisholm, Minn, where he spent five or six years. He then returned west, locating at Astoria, Ore., where he resided a year or two and then returned to Bonnors Ferry where he had since made his home.

Mr. O'Brien was married in April, 1914, to Rose Halliday at Sandpoint, Idaho. Four children were born to them, all of whom survive. They are John and Daniel O'Brien, of River Falls, Wis., William O'Brien, of Bonnors Ferry, and Miss Loretta O'Brien, of Seaside, Ore.

Other survivors include three sisters, Mrs. John J. Brown, River Falls, Wis., Mrs. W. CA Fewkes, Rexford, Mont., and Mrs. L. N. Brown, Bonnors Ferry; one brother, Daniel O'Brien, Bonnors Ferry; one half sister, Sister M. Ethel, O. S. B., Eau Claire, Wis., and two half brothers, Robert G. Cushing, of Colby, Wis., and Leonard F. Cushing, of Forest Lake, Minn.

About 12 years ago Mr. O'Brien was severely injured in an automobile accident. While he regained fair health, he never fully recovered from the effects of the crash, and during recent years had suffered some from heart attacks and choking spells. Sunday evening, while eating a meal in a local lunch room, he was seized with a severe coughing spell. Before medical aid could be reached he expired, presumably from a heart attack following the choking spell.

During recent years Mr. O'Brien had made his home with his sister, Mrs. L. N. Brown, in Eagle Park addition.

Out-of-town relatives here for services were the daughter, Miss Loretta O'Brien, of Seaside, Ore., and a sister, Mrs. W. C. Fewkes, of Rexford, Mont. A nephew, W. L. Fewkes, accompanied his mother here from Rexford Sunday night, but was unable to be here for the services.

Jack O'Brien, as he was known locally, had a host of friends in this district. These will join with the Herald in expressions of sympathy to the bereaved relatives.
